

At OSM we realise that who we are is not about how many ships we operate or how many offices we have. Those are only numbers, and the heart and soul of OSM is not size. It's about people! We believe that we will continue to grow and strengthen our position as long as we always remember our mission: To make our customers successful. OSM employs more than 7000 people around the world, delivering the best service money can buy in the following fields: Ship Management, Offshore Rig Management, Crew Management and Engineering.
